

Parampara Sweets

The tradition continues ...

In the last century, some eight decades back, a young man Shri Radhey Lal in his early twenties entered in the trade of conventional mithai vendors. His quest to create the best amongst similar shopkeepers in the trade and devotion to offer the best to his customers in the vicinity helped him to progress by leaps and bounds.

Even today, with the third generation having taken over headed by Mr. Jai Prakash Gupta, the tradition continues ... to offer the esteemed patrons the very best and value for money in terms of taste maintaining purity, hygiene and freshness.

The nawabi city – Lucknow is now on the verge of turning a metro. Keeping a pace with the times Mr. Gupta's vision took a shape and got a name – Radhelal's Parampara in the latter half of 2003 in the lap of new Lucknow. A modern, spacious and neat establishment in the heart of the city soon became popular among its customers. The devotion of our work, work environment, highest standard of hygiene paid us within a short span. On these strict parameters the company has been awarded the ISO 9001-2000 certification and HACCP marked organisation.

Today, the team is enjoying an elite patronage of the state, gradually. Sharing the happy moments, the team has been privileged to be a part of important celebrations in elite circle of the city and around. The delectable delicacies find a place in every function and social gatherings. Such a long association with the customers obviously means understanding the choice and taste of them, better.

Time and traditions has come a long way and so are the taste and likings of new generations so the team has done so many successful experiments in shapes, taste and flavours too. Take a closer look of our product range in next pages.
